

NAROPA INSTITUTE
JOURNAL OF PSYCHOLOGY

Volume 3

CONTENTS

BUDDHIST PSYCHOLOGY

CHOGYAM TRUNGPA, RINPOCHE

Acknowledging Death as the Common Ground of Healing 3

JUDITH L. LIEF

*Attentive Care:
Working with the Dying Patient* 11

CONTEMPLATIVE PSYCHOTHERAPY

EDWARD M. PODVOLL

The Experience of Dreaming and the Practice of Awareness 21

MEREDITH F. LUYTEN

*Egolessness and the "Borderline"
Experience* 43

EDWARD M. PODVOLL

Protecting Recovery from Psychosis in Home Environments 71

VICTORIA T. FITCH

The Psychological Tasks of Old Age 90

HISTORICAL DOCUMENT

JOHN PERCEVAL

The Case of Dr. Peithman
Introduction by
Edward M. Podvoll 109

Naropa Institute was founded in 1974 under the direction of Chogyam Trungpa, Rinpoche. The Institute has developed an approach to education that joins intellect and intuition. This approach is based on appreciation of the disciplines of both East and West, with special influence from the Tibetan Buddhist tradition.

The Institute offers Degree and Certificate programs in a variety of fields: among these are Bachelor of Arts and Certificate programs in Buddhist and Western Psychology, Psychology of Health and Healing, Movement Studies (Dance and Dance Therapy tracks), Writing and Poetics, Music, Buddhist Studies, Book Arts, and Interdisciplinary Studies. Masters of Arts Programs are offered in Buddhist Studies, Buddhist and Western Psychology, and Dance Therapy. Undergraduate minors are available in Theater, Visual Arts, Martial Arts, and Anthropology. A wide variety of Summer Conferences and Symposia are also offered at the Institute.

Naropa Institute holds candidate for accreditation status with the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. For further information contact Naropa Institute, Dept. J., 2130 Arapahoe Avenue, Boulder, Colorado 80302, (303) 444-0202.

CONTENTS

BUDDHIST PSYCHOLOGY

ACKNOWLEDGING DEATH AS THE COMMON GROUND OF HEALING Chogyam Trungpa, Rinpoche

ATTENTIVE CARE: WORKING WITH THE DYING PATIENT Judith L. Lief

CONTEMPLATIVE PSYCHOTHERAPY

THE EXPERIENCE OF DREAMING AND THE PRACTICE OF AWARENESS Edward M. Podvoll

EGOLESSNESS AND THE "BORDERLINE" EXPERIENCE Meredith F. Luyten

PROTECTING RECOVERY FROM PSYCHOSIS IN HOME ENVIRONMENTS Edward M. Podvoll

THE PSYCHOLOGICAL TASKS OF OLD AGE Victoria T. Fitch

HISTORICAL DOCUMENT

INTRODUCTION Edward M. Podvoll
THE CASE OF DR. PEITHMAN John Perceval